Bay while

The Crow Creek Mine established in 1896, was one of the largest producing hydraulic placer gold mines in South Central Alaska and today is Alaska's most popular recreational gold panning area. No exact records are known that tell the true tale of exactly how much gold was taken from this mine, but estimates put it around 700 ounces a month during peak production. When the commercial mining operations came to a standstill during World War II, many believed that more gold remained in the creek than had ever been mined out of it. The Toohey Family, owners/operators since 1969, strive to preserve not only the rich history and beautiful natural scenery of Crow Creek Mine, but also the gold resources within its claims so that many for years to come can experience the same thrill that the prospectors enjoyed when they first arrived at Crow Creek. Nestled among the Chugach Mountains, Crow Creek Mine offers a unique blend of historical buildings, antiques, rare mining equipment, beautiful gardens, amazing wilderness scenery, hiking trails (including the Historic Iditarod Trail), and access to the explore the mines' original claims. These claims are still producing gold to this very day and with a little work and a bit of luck, you might be surprised to find that you too can catch 'gold fever'.

DAY SIX Chickaloon-Glacier Trek: Today's adventure will take you aboard an airboat to the base of Knik Glacier and Lake George. "The largest glacier accessible by car in Alaska". The scenic two hour drive north east of Anchorage on the Glenn Highway makes it an easy day trip from Anchorage. The Matanuska is a beautiful valley glacier twenty four miles long and four miles wide descending twelve thousand feet to the terminus. Nestled in the breathtaking Chugach mountains. Our unique location gives us some of the best weather in the state of Alaska.

Unbelievable huge ice bergs float next to your boat, and offer a great photo opportunity. As you travel on today you will get to step back in time a view the glacier age. Take a walk to the Matanuska Glacier and view it up close and personal. As you travel to Chickaloon you will get to see the Knik Glacier and traveling along beside you is the Matanuska River. The Matanuska Glacier ... one of the great wonders easily accessible to Alaska visitors is at mile marker 102 on the Glenn highway.

The trip to this glacier is one of the most panoramic of your visit and will provide a great venue for many pictures to remember your visit as you travel along side the Matanuska River. Once at the glacier you will be able to see and touch the blue ice, visit the 10 acre lake in the midst of the glacier, visit moulans that fall hundreds of feet to the bottom of the ice as well as visit the crevasses that cover the ice field. For an unforgettable visit, we'll arrange a tour through Mica Guides. You will overnight in your same lodgings at Lake Lucille Bed & Breakfast. (Meals

DAY SEVEN-As we travel north you will get to stop at the Village of Eklutna.

Here

you will get to see some of the native culture and see their spirit houses. The Eklutna historical Park and Village site has been inhabited by the Dena'ina Athabascan Indians since about 1650. Here you can learn about their traditional lifestyle and visit a number of attractions, including the Eklutna Village Heritage House, with historical exhibits and Native art; the St. Nicholas Russian Orthodox Church, originally built in the 1830s and reconstructed in the 1970s; the new St. Nicholas Church, completed in 1962; and the Eklutna Cemetery, known for its colorfully decorated houses."

"spirit

A short day hike to a river gorge and waterfall. A short, scenic trail through spruce and birch forest, this developed trail leads along the edge of a gorge on the Eklutna River to a crashing waterfall on Thunder

Bird

Creek, a tributary of the Eklutna. The trail is limited to foot traffic only, and no camping is allowed. It's a good hike

for kids, but keep an eye on them; the rushing creek and the cliffs and rock faces along the canyon are potentially dangerous.

Special features: Thunder Bird Falls and a gorge on the Eklutna River.

It is time to bring this tour to an end. As we bring you back to Anchorage to connect with your flights we

that you have enjoyed your tour of Alaska and have a safe return home. (Meals Provided: Breakfast & Lunch)
